

Contents

---

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS		iii
FOREWORD		v
PREFACE		vii
CHAPTER 1	WHAT IS BUSINESS COACHING?	1
	Growth and Trends in the Coaching Profession	3
	Definitions	5
	Some Assumptions of Business Coaching	6
	Distinguishing the Coaching Role from Related Roles	8
	Distinguishing Coaching from Other Methods of Management and Training	11
	The Three Components of Coaching	14
	Support for the Coach	18
CHAPTER 2	THE COACHING MODEL	21
	The Coaching Model	22
	Contracting	23
	Discovery	26
	The Vision	28
	Setting Goals and Planning	29
	Action and Review	32
	Recurring Processes	35
CHAPTER 3	BASIC SKILLS OF COACHING	41
	Attending	42
	Listening	43
	Communicating Empathy and Understanding	45
	Questioning	48
	Empathy, Sympathy and Self-Disclosure	56
	Giving Advice	57
	What to Listen for When Coaching	58

CHAPTER 4	CHALLENGING	67
	What Do We Challenge?	69
	How Do We Challenge?	71
	Immediacy	75
	When a Client is Stuck	76
CHAPTER 5	DEVELOPING THE VISION	85
	Challenges in Developing a Vision	88
	Methods for Developing a Vision	91
	Factors Affecting Developing a Vision	96
CHAPTER 6	MOVING INTO ACTION	99
	Goal Setting and Planning	99
	Developing Tactics to Achieve the Goals	104
	Planning	107
	Action and Review	114
	When the Client Does Not Follow Through	116
CHAPTER 7	USE OF SELF IN COACHING	121
	The Three Perspectives of the Coach: Head, Heart and Guts	121
	Use of Self: Bringing Our Knowledge and Experience into Coaching	130
CHAPTER 8	THE COACHING RELATIONSHIP AND PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT	137
	Self-Awareness: The Uses of the Johari Window	138
	Personal Development	143
	The Coach's Personal Growth and Development	145
	Self-Awareness and Personal Development	148
	Defense Mechanisms in the Coaching Process	150
CHAPTER 9	GROUP COACHING	159
	Why Group Coaching	160
	Group Factors which Enable Learning and Growth	160
	Organizing and Leading a Coaching Group	163
	A Theoretical Background for Group Coaching	169
CHAPTER 10	COACHING AND THERAPY	185
	Why Do Coaches Need To Understand Therapy?	185
	Varieties of Therapy	187
	Key Concepts in Psychotherapy	190
	The Process of Psychotherapy	193
	The Grey Area Between Coaching and Therapy	198
AFTERWORD		203
REFERENCES		207
INDEX		209